INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL FOR SMALL BUSINESS

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2018

1. Organization and summary of significant accounting policies

Organization

Founded in 1955, International Council for Small Business , (“ICSB”) was the first international membership organization to promote the growth and development of small businesses worldwide. ICSB brings together educators, researchers, policy makers and practitioners from around the world to share knowledge and expertise in their respective fields.

ICSB has been determined to be exempt from federal income tax pursuant to Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3).

Basis of presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Revenue is recognized when earned and support when contributions are made, which may be when cash is received, unconditional promises are made, or ownership of other assets is transferred to ICSB. Expenses are reported when costs are incurred. Net assets represent the cumulative balance of the operations of ICSB from inception. ICSB reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets.

Revenue recognition

Membership affiliate and chapter dues are billed at a standard rate on a quarterly basis. To be granted affiliate status there needs to be, at minimum a consistent 50 participants within the group. To be granted chapter status there needs to be at minimum a consistent 15 participants within the group. The billing rate for an affiliate and chapter is $25 and $65 per participant, respectively. For the current year, there were three chapters and fifteen affiliates.

Contributions and special project funding received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions.

Support that is restricted by the donor, including pledges, is reported as an increase in temporarily restricted or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the nature of the restriction. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

1. Organization and summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Cash and cash equivalents

ICSB considers all highly liquid short-term debt instruments whose maturity dates do not extend past three months from the original date of purchase to be cash equivalents. As of March 31, 2018, ICSB did not hold any such investments.

Accounts receivable and allowance for doubtful accounts

Accounts receivable are recorded at the lower of cost or fair value. The risk of loss on the receivables is the balance due at the time of default. All receivables are unsecured. ICSB uses the allowance method to determine uncollectible contributions and other receivables. The allowance is based upon prior experience, management's analysis of specific promises made, and other historical factors that pertain to the receivables. Receivables are written off when deemed uncollectible. Recoveries of receivables previously written off are recorded when received. Accounts receivable was $40,179 at March 31, 2018. There was no allowance for doubtful accounts at March 31, 2018.

Intangible assets

In 2005, ICSB purchased the JSBM publication ownership rights. In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, after January 1, 2010 the intangible asset is not amortized since it has an indefinite life. Instead, it is tested for impairment.

Income taxes

No provision has been made for income taxes, since ICSB has been determined to be exempt from income tax pursuant to Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and there was no net unrelated business taxable income during the year.

ICSB follows FASB Accounting Standards Codification Section 740 which requires an assessment of uncertainty in income taxes and certain financial statement disclosures relating to unrecognized tax benefits. Uncertainty in income taxes for a not-for-profit organization would include the status of its exemption from taxes, status of filings in local jurisdictions, and unrelated business income, if any. The Foundation has determined that it does not currently have any tax positions that it considers to be uncertain.

Deferred revenue

Amounts received in advance for future conferences are deferred and recognized in the year to which they apply.

1. Organization and summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reported period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Functional allocation of expenses

The costs of providing programs and other activities of ICSB have been summarized on a functional basis. Costs that can be identified with particular programs or support functions are charged directly to that program or function. Salaries and related costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services based upon management's best estimates of the proportion of these costs applicable to each program. Other allocable costs have been allocated to program services and management and general based upon management's best estimates.

2. Intangible – JSBM

On July 9, 2005, ICSB purchased the ownership of the Journal for Small Business Management (JSBM) and the JSBM website www.jsbm.org from the West Virginia University College of Business and Economics for $325,000. Before 2010, ICSB amortized the intangible using the straight-line method over a period of 15 years. After January 1, 2010, the intangible is not being amortized and is tested annually for impairment. No impairment was recorded for the year ended March 31, 2015. Accumulated amortization as of March 31, 2018 is $81,250.

3. Administrative support agreement

ICSB has an administrative support agreement with George Washington University (the University). Under this agreement, the University provides personnel including an Executive Director and Operations Manager, office space and utilities, telecommunications and internet, and administrative supplies to ICSB. The current agreement expires on June 30, 2018. During the year ended March 31, 2018, ICSB paid the University $53,033 for this support. ICSB owes the university approximately $13,000 as of March 31, 2018 for the January – March 2018 quarterly support.

4. Temporarily restricted net assets

Temporarily restricted net assets include donor restricted funds and other funds, which are only available for program activities. The temporarily restricted net assets as of March 31, 2018, was $22,597 restricted for the White Fellows Fund.

5. Journal income – JSBM

ICSB entered into a publishing agreement with Wiley-Blackwell. Under this agreement, Wiley-Blackwell is responsible for publication of the journal 4 times a year. ICSB receives a $20,000 stipend, which is adjusted by the Consumer Price Index, and 30% of all non-member subscriptions revenue and non-subscription income after deducting costs for printing and shipping.

In connection with the purchase of the ownership of JSBM publication in July 2005 as described in Note 2, ICSB received $325,000 from Blackwell Publishing, Inc. In exchange for this payment, Blackwell Publishing, Inc. receives a certain percentage of subscription revenue and royalty income on quarterly JSBM publications over a 10.5 year period. ICSB recognized the full $325,000 journal income over 10.5 years using a straight-line basis. ICSB recognized $78,044 for the year ended March 31, 2018 which is included in journal income.

6. Income taxes

ICSB has not recognized any cumulative adjustment relating to the adoption of FASB ASC Income Tax Topic, nor are there any unrecognized tax benefits to be disclosed as of March 31, 2018. Uncertainty in income taxes for a not-for-profit organization would include the status of its exemption from taxes, status of filings in local jurisdictions, and unrelated business income, if any. ICSB's information return filings for the years 2015-2017 remain subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service. The federal and state returns for the year ended March 31, 2018, have not yet been filed.

7. Subsequent events

Management of ICSB has evaluated events or transactions that occurred after March 31, 2018 through June 21, 2018, the date the financial statements were available to be issued. Management of ICSB has determined that there were no subsequent events or transactions that should be disclosed in the financial statements.
